Boardcraft: The Essence Of High-Performing Boards

Purpose and scope

The purpose of the Boardcraft board training programme is to build the capability of current and emerging board directors and executives, especially of private and PE-controlled companies, and family businesses, to enable them to become more effective in their governance roles.

A one-day programme led by Dr. Peter Crow, an accredited director and chair with globally relevant expertise. The programme will be curated to explore critical aspects of board work, and equip emerging and aspiring board members with tools and techniques govern with confidence.

Specific areas to be covered include:

- The essence of high-performing boards: moving beyond compliance
- The importance of purpose, strategy and strategic foresight
- Frameworks to support high-performance
- Questions, to focus on what matters
- Boardroom dynamics, for better decisions and outcomes
- Practical insights, to get things done

Peter Crow , PhD CMInstD

“Every company has the potential to achieve great things and make a significant contribution to society. I have devoted my life’s work to the pursuit of this worthy goal.”

Dr. Peter Crow is an accredited director and chair, and an advisor with an extensive record helping boards realise organisational potential. He has served on the boards of private and PE-controlled companies, family businesses, and social and community agencies; advised boards, chairs, institutional investors and governments; curated director development programmes; and spoken and written on topical matters.

Drawing on globally relevant expertise (in corporate governance, strategy, boardcraft and strategic leadership, in particular), broad business and boardroom experience (across agribusiness, technology and innovation, professional services, manufacturing, distribution, healthcare, local government and beyond), strategic mindset, and innate curiosity, his insightful contributions have proven invaluable to the fortunes of a wide range of enterprises, across five continents.

Dr. Crow has a doctorate in corporate governance and strategy (a pioneering study explaining how boards influence firm performance), and a first in technology and management. He is a chartered member of the Institute of Directors (CMInstD), and a member of several international institutions including the Global Peter Drucker Society and the International Corporate Governance Network. He lives in New Zealand but works globally.
